

NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF STUDENT FINANCIAL AID ADMINISTRATORS

NEWS FROM NASFAA

Financial Aid in the News

The Status of Latinos in Higher Ed (Inside Higher Ed)

"A new report, 'Taking Stock: Higher Education and Latinos,' summarizes research about the progress of Latino students in higher education and the views of political leaders and students themselves on that progress -- and areas where not enough progress has been made," Inside Higher Ed reports. "The report urges a renewed national focus on increasing educational attainment by Latinos. Such a focus might include a media campaign, goals for enrollments and graduation rates, and increased support (along with accountability measures) for institutions that educate large numbers of Latino students. The report was prepared by Excelencia in Education."

You can read the complete Dec. 17, 2009 Inside Higher Ed article on-line.

Posting of "Financial Aid in the News" does not imply endorsement or support by NASFAA. If you attempt to access an article and receive a "not found" message, it is likely that the article has been removed from the site. Posted 12/17/09 to www.NASFAA.org. Please submit Web site questions or comments to Web@NASFAA.org.

Home | Encyclopedia | Standards of Excellence | Reauthorization | LearnStudentAid.org | Parents & Students

Copyright 2009 National Association of Student Financial Aid Administrators (NASFAA)