

Hispanic-Serving Institutions (HSIs): 2009-10 – Graduate Programs

The mission of Excelencia in Education is to accelerate Latino student success in higher education. A critical group of institutions enrolling and graduating Latino students are Hispanic-Serving Institutions (HSIs).

Over half of all Latino undergraduate students in higher education (54%) are enrolled in less than 10 percent of institutions in the United States known as Hispanic-serving Institutions (HSIs).

Hispanic-Serving Institutions (HSIs) are defined in federal law as accredited and degree-granting public or private nonprofit institutions of higher education with 25 percent or more total undergraduate Hispanic full-time equivalent student enrollment.¹

In 2009-10, there were 293 HSIs. The majority of these institutions (52 percent) were 2-year institutions. While a smaller representation of HSIs offered baccalaureate programs, many of these institutions offered graduate programs. Title V of the Higher Education Act authorizes a program for graduate education at HSIs.

Summary of the 2009-10 List of HSIs with Graduate Programs

Of the 293 HSIs, 112 institutions offer graduate degrees (43 offer doctoral and first professional degrees, 63 offer master's and first- professional degrees, 7 offer either post-master's or post-baccalaureate certificates).

The list of institutions identified as HSIs with graduate programs in this analysis is not intended to designate eligibility for any specific program; rather, the list is meant to assist in considering and analyzing the institutions that meet the legislative definition of an HSI and offer graduate programs. The following list of HSIs was created by using the Integrated Postsecondary Education Data System (IPEDS).²

² IPEDS is a system of surveys designed to collect from all primary providers of postsecondary education institution-level data and is maintained by the National Center for Education Statistics (NCES), U.S. Department of Education.
